

Bedford CloseIt Machines

BEDFORD®

For more than half a century, Bedford has been a trusted leader in end-of-line packaging, and the Bedford CloseIt. Machines continue that tradition by delivering unmatched reliability, precision, and efficiency. Engineered for fast-paced production environments, CloseIt Machines apply Bedford's signature CloseIt Clips with consistent placement, creating a secure closure that protects product freshness while enhancing presentation. Designed with versatility in mind, these systems accommodate a wide range of bag types, product sizes, and production speeds, making them ideal for bakeries, produce packers, snack manufacturers, and countless other food and non-food markets. Every Bedford CloseIt machine features intuitive controls, low-maintenance operation, and rugged construction built to withstand continuous use, helping facilities reduce downtime and increase throughput. Whether integrated into a fully automated line or used as a dependable standalone station, Bedford CloseIt Machines offer a seamless solution that improves packaging efficiency, ensures product integrity, and ensures products are ready for retail.

Bedford Closelt Closures

Bedford Closelt™ Closures are engineered to deliver consistent, secure, and professional bag sealing performance in partnership with Bedford Closelt Machines. Designed with high-quality wire and durable paper or plastic materials, these closures provide a tight, dependable seal that helps maintain product freshness while withstanding the demands of transport and handling. Closelt Closures are available in a variety of sizes, colors, and material options, allowing manufacturers to match specific packaging requirements and enhance brand visibility. Their uniform construction ensures smooth feeding and accurate application within automated or semi-automated production lines, reducing jams and minimizing downtime. Each closure is manufactured to precise tolerances for reliability at high speeds, making them ideal for bakeries, produce packers, snack producers, and other industries that rely on efficient, repeatable packaging. From standard color-coded clips for easy product identification to customized options for unique applications, Closelt Closures offer a versatile solution that supports both operational efficiency and product quality. Backed by Bedford's decades of expertise and commitment to performance, Closelt Closures give producers confidence in every seal.
